Performance

Breanne Madigan

this one may get some pushback. i am not sure how much of a focus brad will want on the underperformance of his asset for this audience. but it certainly does a good job of illustrating this point! let's leave it in and ask [REDACTED] her view re what he will want to see. have we also coordinated with [REDACTED] and team? i think they were going to pull a few slides together as well so let's coordinate, thanks!

The relationship between XRP performance and sales percentage remains noisy, but the further divergence of reported volume from reliable volume suggests that we either recalibrate more frequently or change benchmarks to something that more closely approximates reliable volume

The industry is rapidly evolving around exchange rating and legitimacy; nevertheless, we do not see an ideal option available today - we expect additional clarity by year-end

let's change the second half of this now that we are moving ahead with

While there is no single ideal option that stands out, we have presented multiple vetted options for our sales benchmark, although each option has a significant challenge to be managed

ditto with this - make the summary about why we chose CC
